

Cruise Opens Summer Activities

"UMD is planning the most extensive summer session activities program that the school has ever had." So says Valworth R. Plumb, director of student personnel services and chairman of the committee planning the UMD summer activities. Aiding Mr. Plumb with the program are Ebba M. Aronson, kindergarten supervisor, and Carroll B. Hanson, assistant professor of English.

A cruise on the S. S. Wayne will highlight the first summer session which begins June 14. The excursion has been set for June 19 from 8 to 12 p. m. and will be for UMD students only.

Featuring the second summer session beginning July 26 will be a dance which will be held in the Hotel Duluth ballroom Aug. 6 from 9:30 to 12:30 p. m.

The summer session committee has made arrangements with the Enger and Lester park golf courses for special rates for UMD golf enthusiasts.

Among other activities will be the formation of a hiking club which will meet every Sunday; an art workshop open to all students; and frequent Playnights sponsored by the Division of Health and Physical Education.

A tour of Gooseberry park and Split Rock lighthouse is scheduled for July 10. Students will also have the opportunity of viewing the Eveleth open pit mines in August. Inspection tours will be made of local industrial and commercial facilities.

Two productions will be staged by the University Guild Players this summer. The first play will be "Ghosts" by Henrik Ibsen which will run June 16-18. "Cuckoo on the Hearth," a murder mystery, will be presented July 28-30.

Opening the summer program will be an operatic performance of "The Maid Becomes Mistress." A visiting troupe will present the opera 8:30 p. m., June 14, in the auditorium.

The famous Budapest String quartet will perform in the UMD auditorium July 12 at 8 p. m. Several outstanding convocations are being planned. Among the assemblies will be Carl Mose, famous American sculptor, June 23; John K. Sherman, art critic, Aug. 11; and a piano recital by Marti and Nilssen, June 24.

Dan Devine will be master of ceremonies at the event. Speakers representing types of builders will be Donn Jahn, freshman, laborer;

Baccalaureate To Be Held at Saint Pauls Church Sunday Night

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday at 8 p. m. in the St. Pauls Episcopal church, 1710 E. Superior street. The assembly will be welcomed by Provost Raymond C. Gibson. The Reverend O. Wendell McGinnis will give the main address of the evening.

As has been the practice in the past, religious clubs will help in the preparation of the services. Flowers will be given by the Lutheran Students association. The Newman club will supply ushers. The Inter-Varsity has made preparations for music to be furnished by a mixed chorus and special numbers by Robert Nelson.

University Guild Players Present Annual Awards

Vaughan To Speak at Graduation

Prom Royal Pair Reigns Tonight

Tonight couples will learn who the Prince and Princess are at the Junior-Senior Prom in the Hotel Duluth ballroom. The semi-formal dance will be from 9:30 p. m. to 1 a. m. Walt Evans' orchestra will furnish the music.

General chairman for the Prom is Marilyn Nelson. George McNamara handled publicity and Donna Woelffer is in charge of decorations.

Invitations were prepared by Mabel Schauland, chairman, Betty Riddell, Jean MacNaughton, and Jacquie LeBeau. Other committee members are Kirby Vann, Joe Aubin, Jack Powers, and Lois Harper.

Series of Foreign Films Planned for Next Year

A series of four or five foreign films with English sub-titles is being planned by the foreign language department for presentation next year.

Included among the films to be shown will be productions from France, South America, Germany, and Italy.

Dr. Lily Salz, assistant professor in the department, urges that students interested in the performances make suggestions as to the choice of films.

The movies will be free to students and season tickets at one dollar per person will admit faculty members and the general public.

The first June commencement exercises for UMD will be held next Friday at 8 p. m. in the university auditorium. Of the 73 graduates, 62 will receive B.A. or B.S. degrees and 11 will receive two-year certificates.

J. P. Vaughan, superintendent of the Chisholm public schools for the past 41 years, will deliver the main address, "The Basic Process of Civilization."

Mr. Vaughan is past president of the Minnesota Education association, Chairman of the Education Policies commission, a life member of the National Education association, a member of the American Association of School administrators, a contributor to educational journals, and a frequent speaker on state and national programs.

J. P. Vaughan

Provost Raymond C. Gibson will preside over the ceremony and present the diplomas to the graduates. Dr. Gerhard von Glahn and Elmer P. Magnell, senior and sophomore advisers respectively, will lead the processional and assist as marshals.

The invocation and benediction will be given by the Reverend Robert A. Caine of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church.

In charge of preparations for the event are Harriet Harrison, chairman; Elizabeth Teigland, Dr. Leonard B. Wheat, Dr. von Glahn, and Mr. Magnell.

The orchestra under the direction of Dr. Dale Miller will play.

Council Accepts Constitution; Homecoming Activities Set

The new constitution was formally adopted by the UMD Student Council at the last meeting of the year, Tuesday evening. Present members of the council who return to college next fall will function until representatives from each academic department having at least 20 majors and minors are chosen.

Other action taken by the council included plans for Homecoming, Oct. 30. Dale Nelson was appointed general Homecoming chairman. Sponsored by the Student Council, the Homecoming schedule will conform to that on the Minneapolis campus.

Traditional activities will open with election of the Homecoming queen at a student convocation. There will be a Varsity show followed by a bonfire sponsored by the freshman class at Chester park.

A parade through downtown Duluth in the morning will precede the football game with Mankato State Teachers college in the afternoon. Between halves of the game, the Homecoming queen will be crowned.

Climaxing homecoming festivities will be the dance at the Armory. A "name" band will supply music. The council has appropriated $1,000 for this most lavish affair in the history of UMD.

Graduate Works With Blind

REMINISCING are Maude Lindquist, sociology lecturer, and Robert Vessel, '47 graduate. Vessel is athletic director at the Minnesota Braille school at Faribault. (Photo by Rauschenfels)

People meet old friends in the strangest places. So it happened when 73 sociology students, touring several state institutions May 19 and 20, were surprised and pleased to see Robert Vessel, '47 graduate, at the Minnesota Braille and Sight Saving school at Faribault.

While inspecting the school, they learned that Bob is athletic director at the institution. He said that he preferred working with the blind and that he was completely satisfied with his position.

Bob receives $300 per month for his civil service job. His monthly expenses are very nominal—only $30 for room, board, and laundry.

His major at UMD was history and he minored in physical education and social studies, both of which he is putting to good use. Bob can be remembered by many as a lad to cope with on the football field and the basketball court.

Individual Peace Is Key To Universal Brotherhood

The chairman of the committee for a World Constitution now is being sued by his wife for divorce. The irony of the situation is inescapable.

While seeking to find an organizational basis for world peace, this eminent American is unable to maintain peace in his own home.

What this incident illustrates is the fundamental paradox of current thinking. Men are trying to improve humanity without improving the individual. It is an impossibility.

Campus Profiles

Willard Hessen

At the Honor assembly last week, Willard Hessen came near walking off with all the awards. This Two Harbors fellow received the George H. Primmer award in geography and the Washburn memorial award for outstanding work in history. When the UMD seniors stepped to the stage to receive their certificates from Who's Who, Willard was among them.

Next Friday he will be on the auditorium platform again to take his bachelor of science degree with majors in history and geography and a minor in English.

Willard will enroll in the graduate school of geography at Clark university, Worcester, Mass. this fall. He thinks he'll like it there if he finds good hunting and fishing, good food—lots of it, and a state law prohibiting wives from going along on fishing trips.

At UMD, Willard has been treasurer of Kappa Delta Pi, president of Gamma Theta Upsilon, secretary of the Veterans club, a member of the Discussion club, and an assistant in the social studies department.

True peace begins in the heart of the individual and expands in ever-widening concentric circles eventually to embrace the entire world. Just as a mathematician must first locate the point of his compass and then draw his circle, so must peace for the individual be the center of all universal peace efforts.

An unbiased visitor from Mars probably would judge our nation as overfed materially and undernourished spiritually. Certainly we have been blessed with the world's highest standard of living. But this material satisfaction has not decreased internal strife.

In education we are the world's most advanced people. And yet, the crime rate increases every year. We simply are producing smarter crooks.

Individual peace, so necessary for world peace, is the product of a well-adjusted conscience. It cannot be achieved by wealth nor by education. It is man's reconciliation with the Infinite.

Complicated blueprints for world peace will be ineffective unless citizens of the world can say, in the words of the old hymn, "It is well with my soul."

Civic Pride Aids UMD Growth

This marks the end of the first school year under the University of Minnesota. A quick survey of the results and expected results shows an amazing increase in educational opportunities for northern Minnesota.

More important even than this, however, is the development of a new spirit of community pride in this institution.

All elements in the community have contributed to this new spirit—the newspapers, the churches, the advertisers, and civic leaders.

Without the wholehearted cooperation of the people of our community, this year's rapid development would have been impossible.

In this last issue of the STATESMAN, we express our sincere appreciation to all the public-spirited men and women who have promoted and aided our college. Their sacrifice has made our school possible.

Richland, Wash. will have a new assistant superintendent of schools next fall. Dr. A. A. Sandin, director of the campus laboratory school and chairman of the Division of Education and Psychology at UMD, has accepted this position.

At Richland, Dr. Sandin will work under P. A. Wright, formerly superintendent of schools at Snohomish, Wash., where Dr. Sandin first taught.

A knowledge of the Washington city will help one to understand Dr. Sandin's reasons for taking the job.

Richland is a town of 30,000, but building is proceeding for an expected population of 45,000. The only people who can live in the community are scientific and technical personnel of the Atomic Energy Commission, General Electric staff, and educators. Construction workers are not eligible to live in the city.

Many millions of dollars were spent on the community. The city is well planned since space and experts were available to the planning board. Housing is provided by the government. No one is allowed to own any property.

Schools are new and modern, well lighted and equipped, of low one story construction. Since the community is populated with almost all college graduates, the children attending school are above average in home background and mental abilities. These schools really offer an opportunity for putting into practice the recommendations of the NEA Policies commission.

The school budget is good and

will attract the best personnel. The young college-educated parents are interested in providing the very finest facilities for their children.

Though Dr. Sandin is thrilled at the prospect of living in this fine community, he regrets leaving UMD. He says that he has enjoyed working with the staff, particularly the division chairmen and the administration. His responsibilities have limited his relations with students, but he is happy to have had the opportunity of meeting and associating with college students.

The friendly educator wishes that he could be in Duluth to see the plans materialize for the projection of the new campus and the development of a modern university campus. He feels sure that the University branch has a great future.

In going to Washington, Dr. Sandin is returning to the state where he spent much of his earlier life, and where he was educated.

"Ghosts"

Guild Will Stage Ibsen Drama

By Herbert Taylor

The first summer production of the University Guild Players will be Henrik Ibsen's "Ghosts." Anyone familiar with the play will react with interest to this announcement, for he will realize the tremendous challenge a play of this caliber offers to an amateur acting group.

"Ghosts" is a powerful drama with a powerful theme. Its topic, the tragedy of the innocent victims of venereal disease, created a furor when Ibsen wrote it 67 years ago. Today, the subject is no longer a sensational one, but Ibsen's drama has lost none of its potency. Five fully developed characters move through an atmosphere supercharged with human emotion, their actions directed by the sure hand of master craftsman Henrik Ibsen.

Director John C. Converse has already begun casting, and the group of young thespians he has assembled to bring the great play to life looks very promising indeed.

James Powell ("Hell Bent for Heaven," "Our Town") will portray Oswald Alving, a young artist ill of congenital venereal disease—the result of his own father's excesses. Ward Evans ("Ah, Wilderness," "Our Town") has the role of Jacob Engstrand, Rosemary Brandon ("Hell Bent for Heaven," "Anne of Green Gables") that of his foster daughter, Regina. The only weak link in this notably fine cast is Herbert Taylor, who will essay the role of Pastor Manders. Taylor lacks experience and is a ham to the core.

No one has as yet been cast as Mrs. Alving, the most powerful and challenging role in the play.

The Guild production will be before the footlights in the University auditorium June 24, 25, and 26 at 8:30 p. m.

Rules for Mauling Molars

By Stan Jurkanis

None but the hopeless provincial or vulgarian uses toothpicks in public.

Advocates of good manners unanimously frown upon probing between molars for vagrant food particles except in the strictest privacy. Maybe they're jealous of other people's bridge-work.

Often it's not a sense of tidiness which compels the use of birch slivers, but rather the pride and elation which follow a hard won conquest of a particularly obstinate morsel of food. Little things which spice our secret inner life; enhance our self-estimation.

A 1932 writer figures, "Just because toothpicks are furnished in some restaurants does not make it correct to use them." The logic of that is admirable.

Also he says it's vulgar to walk along the street or in a hotel lobby chewing on toothpicks. He evidently doesn't think that admonition carries much weight since he follows with, "For heaven's sake never talk to anyone with a toothpick in your mouth." Save your scintillating chatter till you've spent the splinter. (Which splinter you shouldn't have been chewing in the first place).

The same author goes on to reveal socially acceptable behavior.

Assume you are at a formal dinner. Something wedges in your chompers and causes excruciating pain. Keep calm. Do not curl your forefinger in a hasty Delsartean fashion and start excavating. Instead, excuse yourself quietly so that you will hardly be noticed. (A cinch for nobodies, but demanding shrewd calculation for bon vivants). Try to avoid upsetting any chairs as you furtively sneak off to a secluded nook. The bottom of a dried out well is recommended for adjusting oral annoyances.

When comfortable, glide unobtrusively back to your place. If you bungled slightly, and someone spots you sneaking back, a sheepish smile will imply that you were up to something other than toothpicking.

In Appreciation

The STATESMAN staff takes this opportunity to proffer its heartfelt gratitude and appreciation for the excellent achievements Richard Graving has made toward university public relations during his tenure as editor.

Under Dick's leadership the STATESMAN has taken great strides toward becoming more and more active and influential in school affairs.

The journalistic experience and, above all, the fun we have had under his editorship will not be soon forgotten.

Seniors Receive Awards At Cap and Gown Assembly

Five thousand dollars will be available for loans to UMD students next September. This money was set aside for student use by action of the University of Minnesota according to an announcement by Provost Raymond C. Gibson at the Honor convocation May 26.

High scholarship rating in American history brought the Washburn memorial award to Willard C. Hessen, Henry Resman, and Duane Naddy. In presenting the fifteenth annual award, J. W. Lyder, local banker, remarked that the American history was the hobby of J. L. Washburn, one of the founders of the Teachers college and donor of Washburn hall.

Scholastic leaders of the class of '48, Janice Ledingham, Mary E. Granquist, Elsie J. Norha, William Mancina, and Margaret Rickey were given letters by Dr. Ezra H. Pieper, recognizing their accomplishment.

Mary E. Granquist and Lloyd Green received the American Legion Auxiliary award from Mrs. C. W. Newton, prominent Legion Auxiliary official.

For leading the geography majors scholastically, Willard C. Hessen was presented the George H. Primmer scholarship award by Walter Schmidt, president of Gamma Theta Upsilon, geography fraternity.

Leading the music majors in scholastic rating was Ruth Hedlund, recipient of the Sigma Alpha Iota recognition presented by Dr. Addison Alspach, head of the music department.

Nettie Neufeld, home economics junior, received the Stephen H. Somsen scholarship given on the basis of academic record and financial need as evidenced by her earning her way through college.

In the absence of Alumni president Roy Teppen, Mrs. Gladys Barber, librarian, announced that Joseph Janezich qualified for the E. W. Bohannon scholarship on the basis of scholarship and character.

Daniel J. Devine was recipient of the D club trophy presented by Howard Loraas, former student and D club member.

Students receiving "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges" awards were James E. Daly, Daniel J. Devine, Mary E. Granquist, Lloyd W. Green, Edward Hakkarainen, Phyllis Hansen, Ruth V. Hedlund, Willard C. Hessen, Mary Jane Killam, Robert Montgomery, Elsie J. Norha, Fred C. Proff, Margaret Rickey, Nelle G. Sayre, and Calvin Welsch.

Provost Gibson acknowledged the excellent cooperation given UMD by the local newspapers, service clubs, and radio stations. He voiced the appreciation of the university for the new 160-acre campus given by Richard L. Griggs, member of the Board of Regents, and civic organizations of Duluth.

How Much Do You Spend Per Month?

Student Expenses Average $76

No wonder Dad has to dig down in his pockets when daughter goes to college. The average UMD gal spends $72 a month.

Spending among the men averages $99 for the veterans; $57.50 for non-veterans.

This means that the average student spends $76 a month. Multiplying the average by the number of students we arrive at $120,400 spent monthly by the 1,400 students enrolled.

Range of spending was greatest among women students. One freshman living at home, whose mother does her sewing, got by on $19.40. Another, also living at home, spent $338 in the same month. Veteran student expenditures ranged from $24 to $191; non-veterans from $32 to $97.

These statistics were compiled by the journalism class in a recent survey of student spending during the month of March 26 to April 26. Areas of spending recorded included amounts used for clothing, cosmetics, meals purchased, rent, school supplies, laundry and dry cleaning, transportation, health, and amusement.

Practically every student, the survey revealed, spends money for movies, sports, and dry cleaning.

CAMPUS CLUBS

Kindergarten-Primary

Charlotte Trolander, retiring president of the Kindergarten-Primary club, presented her successor Jeannette Scott with the society's ring at a ceremony May 19. Other officers named were Shirley Kee, vice-president; June Nielson, secretary; and Ellen Lou Tranaas, treasurer.

Christian Fellowship

Warren Nelson, a junior, has been selected as delegate by the UMD Intersociety to Attend Campus in the Woods, the Intersociety Christian Fellowship's summer training camp, August 5 to September 2.

The camp is situated on Fairview Island in Lake of Bays, 145 miles north of Toronto, Ontario.

Nelson has been elected president of the UMD Christian Fellowship for next year. Other officers are Kathryn Philagios, vice-president; Barbara Phillips, secretary; and Allen Peterson, treasurer.

Miss Neufeld To Tour Germany This Summer

By cooperating with the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, in sending Nettie Neufeld, junior, to Marburg, Germany for a summer of study, UMD is in line with other educational organizations engaged in similar projects.

Nettie Neufeld, recipient of the UMD STATESMAN scholarship, will study the effects of war and its aftermath on the nutrition of typical children in several German cities.

Her knowledge of German will enable her to interview the children and their mothers to determine what daily food they eat. This she will record with their height, weight, and ages.

Enterprising Mickey Shows Way

PRIDE SWEEPS Mickey Macaulay these days as he prepares for his popcorn wagon enterprise. Mickey's reconverted transit bus will be seen near Lester park bridge this summer. (Photo by Rauschenfels)

With only exams remaining in this spring quarter, most UMD students are wondering about finding a summer job.

Not Mickey Macaulay, though. He has his job already, even if he had to create it himself.

"It was just an idea, says Mickey of his successful popcorn wagon. "My brother Bob and I ran stands at some of the county fairs around here last summer, and decided that this year we'd operate one stand for the entire summer."

Mickey and Bob, a Central high student, bought the bus from the Duluth-Superior Transit Company about a month ago and have since been quite busy polishing and painting the vehicle which is their new business establishment.

They painted it white for a purpose. The color and the cleanliness of the bus should be a drawing card for tourist trade along the north shore, they think. "Mick 'n Mac's" popcorn wagon will be parked just past the end of the Lester park bridge where passing motorists may buy popcorn, ice cream sandwiches and cones, pop, candy, and cigarettes.

A month ago the Macaulay brothers had an idea. Now they have a very profitable business all their own.

A new faculty constitution was adopted last Friday after receiving a two-thirds majority vote by faculty members.

Approved by the Board of Regents, the constitution gives the faculty "control over entrance requirements, curricula, instruction, examinations, grading, degrees, discipline, student activities, and libraries."

Under the supervision of Dr. Gerhard von Glahn, associate professor of political science, a

GOP Speaker Defends Mundt-Nixon Bill

I am in complete agreement with the Mundt-Nixon bill.

Thus stated William Berlin before a meeting of the UMD Young Republican League May 27. Mr. Berlin, former member of the state legislature, and a U. S. intelligence officer in Trieste, stated that every effort must be made to safeguard this country from the evils he saw in Tito's Yugoslavia.

"In many instances," the youthful Republican said, "the leaders of the Communist party are the same men who led the Fascist party under Mussolini. He cited the head of the Slovenian Communist group as an example.

Mr. Berlin observed that labor's chief enemy is communism. "That is why," he said, "Philip Murray and William Green are opposed to the third party and other Soviet apologists."

DOWN THE SIDELINES

By ROY H. MAKI

The curtain has been rung down on another athletic season at UMD and as usual we shall make a few post mortems of the events that transpired during the past school year. In scanning the record we find that UMD did pretty good in conference and non-conference competition.

The Bulldog football, basketball and hockey teams won a total of 18 games and lost only 15. The golf team turned in a good season by beating all competition in this area. The tennis squad despite limited competition made a worthy showing. The track squad lacked balance but did have record breaking performers in Roy Griak, Bob Lundberg, Francis Sever and Eugene Watts.

We understand that UMD's own Joe Gerlach is doing a pretty good job of managing the Carleton entry in the local Arrowhead Amateur Baseball league. Gerlach was a pretty fair infielder during his undergraduate days at the University of Wisconsin. While on the subject of baseball we might add that ex-Bulldog great Maurice Gorham once got four homers, three doubles and a single in a Fourth of July double-header while performing for the Superior Blues in the Northern league in 1936.

Haglund Holds Mile Mark

Since we are in the midst of the track season your erstwhile columnist dug into a few musty old school papers and came up with the following interesting items about the Bulldog record makers in track. Leroy Haglund, one of Duluth's greatest distance runners, set the school record for the mile with a time of 4:47.3 at the Hibbing Invitational meet, April 25, 1942. Haglund also holds the school record for the two-mile with a time of 10:27.8 which he set at Moorhead, May 2, 1942. Bill Boldt, who was killed during the last war, set the high jump mark for the school when he cleared the bar at five feet eight inches at the Bemidji meet, May 10, 1943. Bob Potter cleared 11 feet eight inches in the pole vault to set the school record at the Hibbing meet, May 10, 1947.

Boxing a Dead Sport

I've often wondered why boxing never took hold as a popular sport here. The school did have a four-man mitt squad in 1941. Members of the squad were Bob Gerber, George Bakalyar, "Moon" Brayden and Gordy Tulloch. Matches were conducted with boxers from Stevens Point Teachers and Superior State college. In a tournament held at the Superior college gym, Bob Gerber fought his way to the finals of the 145-pound class only to lose to Berlagnoli of Superior and George Bakalyar lost his semi-final round fight to Howie Stimm of Stevens Point.

Well, this looks like "thirty" for the school year. See you all again next fall.

UMD Tennis and Golf Letter Winners Named

Coach Ward Wells has announced that the following UMD athletes have been awarded letters. Winners of golf letters are Tom Kohlbry, Gerald Chessen, John Olsen, William Small, Dick Weatherby, and Bobb Rastello. Letter winners in tennis are Don Ames, Kermit Johnson, Joseph Aubin and Tom Parr.

William Small is the only senior among the lettermen mentioned while Jerry Chessen and John Olsen are freshmen. The rest of the tennis and golf lettermen are sophomores. Oddly enough no juniors were represented.

THE NEW LOOK in UMD athletic sweaters is modeled by Dick Carlson, and Bob Galinski. The "M" in maroon and gold has replaced the traditional green and gold "D". (Herald-Tribune Sport Shot)

Griak, Sever Set State Meet Records in Half-Mile and Discus

UMD trackmen set two new conference records at the Minnesota Teachers college conference track meet held May 22 at Mankato but had to be content with third place. Mankato copped top honors with 59 3/4 points followed by St. Cloud with 43 1/4, Duluth with 43, Moorhead with 32, and Winona last with 10.

Roy Griak, UMD, broke his mark of 2:02.3 for the half-mile, set in 1947, when he negotiated the distance in 1:58.3. The other record set by a UMD thincad was in the discus event. Francis Sever, who hadn't had much success all spring, suddenly found himself and heaved the platter 135 feet, six inches to wipe out Dean Widseth's record of 129 feet, 11 inches set in 1943. Widseth performed for Bemidji that year.

Eugene Watts UMD's sensational sprinter put on a show of speed that really thrilled the railbirds. He streaked over the century in :9.9 and followed it up with a fast 22.1 in the 220. Neither mark approached the record of 9.7 in the 100 or 21.9 in the 220 set by Walters of Mankato last year.

Ames-Johnson Duo Defeats Goodman-Sevruck in Tennis Finals

Don Ames and Kermit Johnson emerged as the men's doubles champions in the first annual Twin Port Collegiate tennis tournament sponsored by the UMD STATESMAN. They turned back Laird Goodman and Stan Sevruck in the finals by the scores of 2-6, 6-3 and 6-4 last Tuesday at the University courts.

Ames and Johnson fought their way to the finals by disposing of the Dick Hill-Bud McDonald duo, 6-2, 6-1 in the first round of play and the Tom Bowman-Harland LaFortune combination, 6-1, 8-6 in semi-final matches. Laird Goodman and Stan Sevruck won the right to play in the finals by eliminating the Joe Aubin-Tom Parr team, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

In the mixed doubles competition, quarter final round was gained by four teams. Joe Aubin and Mary Christie defeated

Laird Goodman and Alice Hartwell, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4; Tom Parr and Joan Wahl defeated Earl Gustafson and Jo Ann Willeson; Tom Bowman and Ella Johnston defeated Don Ames and Jeanne Peterson, 6-3, 7-5; and Kermit Johnson and Helen Vaux defeated Dick Graving and Carol Holmstrand, 6-2, 6-0.

The following girls have advanced to the finals of the women's singles championship: Alice Hartwell defeated Mary Christie, 6-1, 6-2, and Ella Johnston defeated Joan Wahl, 8-6, 6-4. Hartwell gained the semi-finals by defeating Doris Peterson 6-4, 8-6 while Christie won her right to play in the semi-final by defeating Carol Holmstrand, 6-0, 6-2. Johnston advanced to the semis by defeating Jo Ann Willeson, 6-3, 6-3. All the participants in the tournament are students at UMD.

WAA Ends Season As Coeds Participate In U of M Tennis Meet

Members of the UMD WAA were entertained at a tea held at the home of Mary Jane Killam, president of the association, Monday afternoon from three to five.

The WAA also capped a successful season of activities by being host to Playday for local high school senior girls last Saturday. Various indoor and outdoor activities highlighted the day's festivities.

Mary Christie and Ella Johnston were defeated in the semi-finals of singles competition of the women's tennis tournament held at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, May 22.

Opponents in the finals in the STATESMAN women's tennis tournament being conducted at the University courts are Alice Hartwell, and Ella Johnston.

Tennis and Golf Teams Cop Third

UMD's golf and tennis teams both finished third in a field of six teams competing in the annual state meet of the Northern Teachers college conference. This was considerably better than the showing they made last year when they finished sixth in golf and fourth in tennis. The meet was held at Mankato May 22.

Jerry Chessen shot a 74 to tally the second best individual score of the meet. Mankato copped top honors in the golf event with a low team score of 298 strokes followed by Winona with 300 and Duluth with 312.

The Bulldog golfers also won three triangular meets, and a dual meet with Eveleth J C during the season.
